Dear Omid Kamvari,

Thank you for submitting an excellent proposal for an Iranian installation at the London Design Biennale 2018, which will take place from 4 – 23 September at Somerset House, London.

The London Design Biennale 2018, now firmly established as a highlight of the cultural calendar, will see 40 nations of the world create an outstanding exhibition of ideas and ingenuity. The Biennale will bring the best international design thinking to London – illustrating how design can challenge, engage, educate and surprise audiences. Exhibiting nations will form an international network of global design countries, each invited to take part to celebrate their unique cultural identity in the field of design. The London Design Biennale enables valuable government, business and public connections, and for each design contribution to be presented at the highest international level.

I am delighted to inform you that the Artistic Director, International Advisory Committee and Jury, composed of leading creative experts worldwide, has selected Kamvari Architects as the practice tasked with creating an installation or exhibition to represent Iran. You may seek official endorsement for your project from the Embassy of the Islamic Republic of Iran in London, or alternatively participate as an independent entrant.

It is important for the heritage and contemporary creativity of Iranian architecture to be part of the Biennale this year, and I believe your project will inspire the British public and our international audiences.

We look forward to welcoming you to the London Design Biennale 2018.

Yours sincerely,

Sumantra Ghose
Managing Director
